We offer healthcare and referrals to everyone in the communities we serve across Western Pennsylvania. We accept most insurance, Medicare, and Medicaid. For those who do not have insurance, we offer our services regardless of ability to pay. Services are also available on a sliding fee scale for those who qualify.

Confidential and Complete Care
Adagio Health provides total reproductive healthcare for men and women, annual gynecological exams for women, appointments to address infections and other concerns, family planning information, assistance in achieving pregnancy, sexually transmitted infection (STI) testing and treatment, and referrals.

Effective Birth Control
We offer all FDA-approved forms of birth control options to help patients avoid an unintended pregnancy. Our practitioners work with patients to help them make the best choice for their lifestyle. Condoms are also available.

Personal, Private Pregnancy Services
Pregnancy testing is available at all network locations. Postpartum exams are available in select locations. Our Aliquippa, Butler, Edinboro, Erie, and New Castle offices offer prenatal care and delivery services.

Cancer Detected. Lives Protected
Through the HealthyWoman Program, Adagio Health offers clinical breast exams, pelvic exams, PAP tests, HPV screening and diagnostic referrals at no cost to eligible women who are uninsured or underinsured.

Vouchers for breast health screening and related diagnostic tests are also available for uninsured and underinsured women and men through the Susan G. Komen Mammogram Voucher Program.
Prevent Illness, Empower Women
The WISEWOMAN program helps women ages 40-64 prevent heart disease through better diet, exercise, and lifestyle choices. WISEWOMAN is for women who meet certain income guidelines, are uninsured or underinsured, and are enrolled in the HealthyWoman Program.

Feed and Inform through WIC
The WIC (Women, Infant, & Children) Supplemental Nutrition Program is available in Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Indiana, and Lawrence Counties through Adagio Health.

When eligible families enroll in WIC, they are able to receive vouchers for healthy foods, are educated on healthy eating behaviors, find breastfeeding support, and receive healthcare service referrals.

WIC is for families with infants and children up to the age of 5, and pregnant, breastfeeding, and postpartum women. Families need to meet certain income requirements for eligibility. Pennsylvania WIC is funded by the USDA.

Educate and Empower
Our health educators offer risk-reduction and prevention education to youths and adults on topics that include pregnancy, STI/HIV, dating violence, diabetes, drugs, and tobacco. We provide tobacco cessation services to communities as well as training for teachers, counselors, and social service agencies.

Feed minds. Fuel Health
Adagio Health’s Power Up nutrition education program encourages students, adults, seniors, and communities to choose healthier foods and live active lifestyles. Power Up educators are working with community partners to create healthier environments. Power Up is a SNAP-Education program funded by the USDA.
