The Facts

Gonorrhea
- Common among teens and young adults
- Can affect anyone who is sexually active
- Usually has no symptoms. The carrier is likely to pass it to others without knowing it.
- Easy to treat and cure.
- If left untreated, it can lead to serious health problems.
- Gonorrhea can cause female infertility.
- Common among young adults.
- Can affect anyone who is sexually active.
- Often it has no symptoms. The carrier is likely to pass it to others without knowing it.
- Easy to treat and cure.
- If left untreated, it can lead to serious health problems.
- Gonorrhea can cause female infertility.

HPV
- HPV is not just one virus, but a group of viruses with 100+ strains.
- 30+ types of sexually transmitted HPV can infect the genital area of men and women.
- Often it has no symptoms. The infection will clear on its own.
- Can cause genital warts in men and women.
- Can cause cancers including cervical, vulvar, vaginal, anal, penile, and oropharyngeal (head and neck)."